VOL. 34 BARIUM SPRINGS, N. C., JANUARY 1956 No. 1

Teachers Return And School Begins

The second half of the school year is underway. The teachers who have been absent from the campus since the closing of school for the holidays have returned to take up the class room work. Not only the housemothers, but also the students are glad when school re-opens and the variety of activities take place in the school.

Principal R. G. Calhoun and his fifteen associates will be moving through the months looking toward the middle of May and another graduation.

Basketball Tops Sports Calendar

January and February will be filled with basketball. Two games each week, ordinarily on Tuesday and Friday night, will be played by all the South Piedmont Conference teams. The Barium Tornadoes, both boys and girls, will be in full swing through the whole schedule. As the conference race begins, there are high hopes that the boys may give a good account of themselves and register one of their best seasons in many years. The material for the girls' squad does not measure up to some of the more recent years, and the season looks a little leaner for them.

Coach A. M. Calhoun has reduced his squad to the final limit and hopes to find in working with these boys and girls a winning combination.

The true spirit of the game, however, does not lie in winning every game. The Barium coaches enjoy winning as much as any coaches and they also lay great stress on the manner in which the game is played. The memorial plaque in the Johnston Gymnasium sets forth the ideal which the former superintendent, Dr. Joseph B. Johnston, held and which still is the aim of the sports program at Barium Springs, namely; "He believed athletics to be a valuable means in developing good citizens."

Win or lose, the teams will be actively engaged in demonstrating the best that they have in the following schedule:

News From Some of the Cottages at Barium

Infirmary

Hello Everybody,

Now that Christmas is over and has brought us many nice gifts we are now back in school. Santa was very good to us here at the Infirmary.

During the holidays many pageants were presented to us. The Beta Club gave one and the Senior High Fellowship gave one. The Girls Choir sponsored by the Rotary Club from Charlotte entertained us one Sunday afternoon with some Christmas Music. It was very beautiful.

Last Christmas during the holidays we had the flu epidemic. This Christmas we were very fortunate. We had only a few patients during the holidays.

During this holiday season we have heard some beautiful Christmas Music from the chimes in our church.

We are happy to be back in our routine of practicing basketball. Our first game is with Asheboro Friday, Jan. 6. The games we will be playing from now on will be conference games. We played three practice games before Christmas. The girls won only one. The boys won two.

Our friends in Statesville from the State and Playhouse Theaters gave every one up here passes to their theater.

Mr. Stowe made his annual visit this year on Christmas Eve and guess who he brought to entertain us. Fred Kirby! The kids were really thrilled. Mr. Stowe gave each of us a bag of candy and fruit and gave each cottage some grapes.

So long until next month.

The Infirmary Girls

Synods Cottage

Hi there,

Happy New Year to all of you from all of us. We had a wonderful Christmas this year with lots of things to eat and many toys and games. Santa was real good to us. We got watches, wagons, skates, some very pretty cowboy suits, and just oodles of other things—too many to name them all. We could hardly wait to get our gifts but when we got them we played all afternoon and part of the night. We want to thank Santa Claus and everyone that helped make our Christmas a happy one. We hope all of you had as happy a Christmas as we did.

Three boys and one big girl have birthdays this month. We are looking forward to them.

That's all folks! See you next month.

"The Wigglers"

Baby Cottage

Hi There,

We are back again with some more gab so please lend us your ears.

We have had our living room completely redecorated and it looks just great.

We had a wonderful Christmas and everyone was excited over the toys and clothes. I don't believe anyone got sick on the candy.

Mary Della, our little new girl has learned that necklaces go around the neck, not down the neck (she swallowed one).

The Baby Cottage

Howard

Well, folks, its the Bean Stringers again. We hope you had a Merry Christmas and will have a prosperous and happy New Year. Over at Howard we had a very Merry Christmas. We had our Santa Claus after lunch Christmas Day. The girls got pretty clothes as well as dolls and other things.

Nancy Joyner celebrated her 13th birthday Wednesday, January 4th. We gave her a surprise birthday party, and was she surprised! She had a lovely cake and got many pretty gifts.

Bye bye, for now.

—The Bean Stringers.

Lees Cottage

Hi Everybody,

Did you have as Merry a Christmas as we did? If you did you sure had a happy time. Our Christmas really started the night of the give-to- tree. Everyone that was able came and gave their share to help our Barium friends in Virginia. Everyone was glad to give as much as they could. The next thing which we did was go Christmas shopping. We sure had a happy time. The ones that went with our little boys had an extra special good time

Holiday Season Brings Many Pleasures

Christmas is a wonderful time everywhere, but particularly at Barium Springs. The big beautiful tree lighted in the dining room, the trees that stood in every cottage, decorations and Christmas packages, candles and Christmas cards — all give a special atmosphere at Christmastime.

This year the new church in its loveliness afforded a place for Christmas services which were a real source of inspiration in helping to understand the true meaning of Christmas. With the chimes, the carillon bells from good recordings, and even the playing of the Messiah through the church tower, the church was made the center of the Christmas season. After the early morning service and the Christmas breakfast, the tower began to send forth Handel's beautiful music as it told the story of the Christ in the Oratorio. Christmas coming on Sunday was not a handicap - it was a real blessing.

During the holiday season, the boys and girls had the opportunity to enjoy some spare time with freedom from their regular duties. Some of the cottages rotated their work so that each could take his turn in sleeping late and having his breakfast served in his cottage, prepared on one of the new stoves that came for Christmastime. What a thrill, instead of rolling out at the tone of the big rising bell and hurrying to the big dining room for a regular day's schedule, to turn over again in your bed and to snooze away on your pillow and when you get ready to leisurely roll out and not have to dress - just go downstairs in your robe and slippers to find that breakfast is being served for you!

There was the return of the former students to the campus and the supper for the "dating couples" at the older boys' building. Some of those in the cottages had been without television but they could now relax in their own cottage with a beautiful 24-inch screen table model which had come through the remembrance of friends.

It was a grand season; it will long be remembered and cherished.

UNDER THE STEEPLE – Nuggets of News

From Little Joe's Church

By Robert R. Collins, Minister

The Christian life is not one of looking back but of forging ahead in faith and trust. We glory not in past accomplishments nor look with longing at years that have passed beyond our grasp. Yet, in the goodness of God we may profit from past experiences, and give thanks for that which has been done by the grace of God. It is in this spirit of humble gratitude that we remember the year just past.

Of all that is remembered the most outstanding in my mind has been the privilege of guiding those young people who were preparing themselves for full membership in the church. We have had two communicants' classes during the past year. At Easter twenty two young people were received by the Session, and just before Christmas sixteen others took their vows before the Session and congregation of Little Joe's Church. Because these young people come from all sections of our great Synod I am giving their names so that you may know who they are.

By profession of faith and baptism: Wilma Adele Bush, Braxton T. Bridges, Sam Luther Florence, Darrell Lee Hicks, Henry Matthew Harris, John Malcolm MacNicholas, Nancy Rae Mobley and Virginia Dare Lane. On profession of faith: Charles L. Donaldson, Jr., A. C. Everett, Margaret Ann Farris, Brenda Diane Shepherd, John Lee Shepherd, and Judith Gail Taylor. By transfer of letter: Elva Nela Medlin, and Audrey Elizabeth Waters.

Another group within our church that has caused us to be aware of the keen interest of our children in the matters of the Spirit are those who have recited the catechisms. Recently two sisters, Judy and Mary Jane Bolton, receited from memory the Shorter Catechism and have received the award of a Bible from our Board of Christian Education in Richmond. Also, the following young folks recited from memory the Child's Catechism and have received the award of a New Testament: Naoka Spencer, Judy Pinkston, Mike Morgan, Judith Ann Rutledge, Lois Allen, Elsie Rannells, Bill Rannells and Douglas Finley. We are proud of the accomplishments of these young people and grateful for the encouragement and guidance their houseparents give them in this important work.

The combined choirs of our church presented a lovely Christmas Cantata, "The Childe Jesus", with tableaus done by members of our Senior High Fellowship. Words cannot ever express the nearness of God's Presence, yet, as we worshipped our Saviour on the morning of His birth in the loveliness of our sanctuary, we knew that He had come. We knew also that He was our Emmanual, (God with us), as we sang "Joy to the world, the Lord is come!"

Little Joe's Church was well represented at the Synod Youth Convention at Davidson College the week after Christmas. LeNair Burns, Mac McClure, Mary Emma McClure and Melvin McKenzie came back with ideas and inspiration that promise to strengthen the life of our Youth Fellowship in the year ahead.

So we move into 1956 with confidence that even as God has richly blessed us in all things through Christ in days past, so He will continue to provide for our every need in the years ahead. That each of you may share this confidence with us is our prayer as we begin a new year Under The Steeple.

The former students of Barium Springs have made a memorial gift and the pulpit in Little Joe's Presbyterian Church has been dedicated in memory of their fifteen fellow students who lost their lives in World War II. The following paper was read at the time of the Dedicatory Service:

GASTONE ALLESSANDRINI, Private, United States Army Air Corps. A member of our community here for eight years, he was serving on a B-29 Bomber Crew which had successfully completed 34 missions from Guam. On its 35th mission the crew failed to return and Gastone was among those listed as missing in action.

WALTER ARCHER, Master Sergeant, United States Army. Walter, who spent 15 years here at Barium Springs, was serving in the New Guinea theatre of action at the time of his death. His outfit had completed a successful raid on a Japanese coastal position and he had gotten back on the boat safely when he noticed his commanding officer left on the beach. Disregarding his own safety, he returned to rescue the officer and was killed in the attempt.

LEONARD FORT, Captain, United States Army Air Corps. One of our Barium boys for ten years and a graduate of Davidson College, Leonard was serving as a bomber pilot over Austria when he was shot down. Evidence from eye witnesses is that he could have parachuted to safety, but because he had a wounded man aboard he elected to stay with the plane and bring it to a crash landing. This heroice effort cost him his life.

JAMES DAVIDSON JOHNSTON, Lt. Colonel, United States Army. Jim, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Johnston and a graduate of Davidson College, was killed while on reconnoissance preparatory to the attack on Cherbourg, France.

FRED LOWRANCE, Lieutenant, United States Army. The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lowrance, Fred attended Davidson College before entering the Army. He served in the Southwest Pacific theatre of action. His unit was attacking a hill on New Georgia Island when the Japanese counter attacked in force. When last seen, Fred was wounded but still firing his pistol at the enemy.

JOHN CALVIN McMASTERS, Private, United States Army. A member of our community for six years, he entered the Army from here and was killed in Germany in February of last year (1945). No details of his death are available.

THOMAS MORGAN, member of the United States Navy. After eight years at Barium, he entered the Navy and was serving in the engine room of one of our ships during the early days of the war. His ship was torpedoed and he was killed either by the explosion or by drowning when the engine room was shut off to keep the water out of the rest of the ship. He was the first Barium boy lost in the war.

BEN MORROW, Private, United States Army. Ben spent twelve years with us here at Barium Springs and was serving with the Army in the Philippines when the war broke out. He was captured on Bataan, endured the infamous death march, and died in a Japanese prison camp.

THOMAS LANDRUM O'KELLY, Lieutenant, United States Army Air Corps. He had completed one year at Mitchell College and one year at the Julliard School of Music in New York before entering the Army. While on maneuvers he flew his plane out over the Caribbean Sea and failed to return.

DICK PARRISH, Private First Class, United States Marine Corps. A member of our community for fifteen years and a student at Davidson College at the time of his entering the service, Dick was killed in the attack on Iwo Jima.

BRUCE PARCELL, Lt. Colonel, United States Army Air Corps. After spending six years at Barium Springs, Bruce went on to Davidson College and graduated there. On a mission over Germany his objective was to blow up a bridge. In order to accomplish this objective, he flew his plane to low that when he was hit he could not land and crashed to his death.

PAUL PITTMAN, Captain, United States Army Air Corps. A Barium Springs boy for eight years, Paul graduated from Davidson College and entered the Army before the outbreak of the war. He was serving as a test pilot and instructor when he became ill and he died in a hospital in Dallas, Texas.

CORRIS SMITH, Private, United States Army. He spent a year and a half at Barium Springs as a boy. After entering the Army he became a member of the 88th Artillery and was killed by shrapnel while sleeping in a dugout in Italy.

EUGENE WHITENER, member of the United States Army. While serving with a Tank Destroyer Company, he was killed in Europe in the Battle of the Bulge.

ROBERT WILKES, member of the United States Navy. He spent eight years at Barium Springs during his youth. Serving in the Philippines at the outbreak of the war, he was captured on Bataan and endured the infamous death march afterward. At the end of the war he was rescued from a Japanese prison camp, but died in San Francisco on his way home.

Cottage News

(Continued From Page One) watching and helping them select their gifts for their family (confidentially, they bought just a little something for themselves, but that was alright, don't you think?) Christmas day was as usual, the happiest time of all. Although wrapping and ribbons were all over the house and always in some one's way, we had about the happiest Christmas we have ever known. We got more than anyone could hope for. You should have seen our little boys, they were so thrilled with their gifts that words can't tell of all the excitement. It was a pleasure just to watch them. But when our Christmas ended we were just as happy as when it began and we will try to stay that way throughout the New Year.

With love,

Rumple Hall

Hi Folks,

Well, here we are again with the news. Since Christmas is past we have been pretty busy, writing all our thank-you letters, studying and practicing basketball.

I know everyone had a Merry Christmas and I know we all did. Besides what we received from Santa, most of us received a doll which some people from Charlotte made clothes for and gave them to us. We think they are beautiful dolls.

On Christmas it was a very big surprise to two of our girls, because Naoka Spencer and Judy Pinkston received their reward for reciting the Child's Catechism. It wasn't only a thrill to them, but to us also.

We received a gift from the State Theatre and Playhouse Theatre for Christmas. We used one of ours about two weeks ago. We went to see a double feature, "The Tender Trap", and "Easy To Love". We enjoyed them very much. I'm sure we'll enjoy the others also.

Well, bye, bye Folks, we'll see you next month.

You haven't heard from us before. We are the boys in one of the new cottages.

There are seventeen of us and we are going to get another boy soon. We have boys from the first grade through the fifth grade.

We live right in the edge of the woods. If you don't find us in the house running our mouths, you'll find us running wild in the woods.

Every one had a Happy Christmas. We got what we asked for and a lot more.

Mr. McClure surprised us the week before Christmas and brought a TV. We are really proud of it.

Mike Morgan recited the Childs Catechism and got a New Testament. Some of the other boys are memorizing it.
